BROOKFIELD GLOBAL LISTED REAL ESTATE UCITS FUND

MANAGEMENT DISCUSSION OF FUND PERFORMANCE

For the year ended 31 December 2023, the Brookfield Global Listed Real Estate UCITS Fund Class E had a total return of 6.29%, which assumes the reinvestment of dividends, underperforming the FTSE EPRA Nareit Developed Index Net (USD) ("the Benchmark"), which returned 9.68%.

During the period, Continental Europe was the leading contributor to relative performance. Outperformance was primarily driven by an outperforming, non-index communications infrastructure company based in Spain. Overweight exposure to select German residential, as well as French office and hotel companies contributed positively as well. Canada was also a regional contributor, where positive security selection was driven by overweight exposure to select outperforming multifamily landlords. Overall, the U.S. was a regional detractor. However, sector contributors within the U.S. included net lease and office landlords, where underweight exposure to underperforming stocks added to relative returns. Non-index exposure to communication infrastructure and towers and data management companies also contributed.

Conversely, U.S. sector detractors included: retail, due to negative selection; as well as residential, where overweight exposure to underperforming single family rental, coastal multifamily and manufactured homes detracted from relative returns. Hong Kong was another regional detractor, due to overweight exposure to select retail landlords and developers. Stocks in the region came under pressure following softer economic data.

GLOBAL REAL ESTATE SECURITIES MARKET OVERVIEW

Global real estate securities, as measured by the FTSE EPRA Nareit Developed Index, returned 10.85% in 2023. Gains for the year came during the fourth quarter, when the index gained more than 15% on the heels of central bank messaging that monetary policy tightening may have peaked. Among U.S. property types, data centers gained more than 30%, benefitting from positive sentiment related to artificial intelligence demand. Hotels were also a standout performer, gaining more than 25% for the year after a strong fourth quarter rally. Conversely, office stocks and diversified landlords with office assets continued to struggle with deteriorating fundamentals and higher costs of capital.²

OUTLOOK AND CURRENT SECTOR VIEWS

Recent data suggests that inflation is beginning to moderate, which should translate to interest rates returning to a normalized, long-term range. We think real estate is well positioned in a moderating or falling-rate environment. However, as monetary policy normalizes, we believe fundamentals, namely earnings growth and valuations, will return to center stage as market drivers.

Despite the recent rally, we think global real estate remains well positioned to produce strong returns. Fundamentals across most property types remain strong. But given the slower macro growth outlook, we prefer a focus on needs based real estate over sectors that could be impacted more by a slowing economy. If transaction activity picks up in 2024, REITs could be in a good position to take advantage of price dislocations. REIT balance sheets have low levels of leverage; and many locked in long-dated debt at low interest rates. As motivated sellers of high-quality assets emerge, well capitalized REITs can take advantage of capital markets.

In the U.S., we currently favor industrial and net lease landlords. Within retail, we maintain a preference for shopping centers, which we believe could be more defensive and are expected to provide better growth. We have an improving view of the self storage sector, as we believe sentiment could be too negative relative to the fundamental outlook. We also maintain a level of caution within office broadly. If price discovery unfolds, we think lower quality valuations could fall further, but high-quality assets in attractive markets can present opportunity.

We maintain a level of caution in Asia Pacific, largely driven by China's slowing economy and related challenges in its property sector. In Hong Kong, we have repositioned holdings for what we believe to be an improved beta-adjusted, risk/return profile. We are starting to see more opportunities across Europe broadly, particularly among residential, retail and industrial landlords, as well as select non-index exposure to communications infrastructure companies.

BROOKFIELD REAL ASSETS SECURITIES UCITS FUND

MANAGEMENT DISCUSSION OF FUND PERFORMANCE

For the year ended 31 December 2023, the Real Assets Securities Fund—Class E Shares had a total return of 4.93%, which assumes the reinvestment of dividends and is exclusive of brokerage commissions, underperforming the Fund's Real Assets Custom Index Blend Benchmark, which returned 7.88%.

On an absolute basis, all equity and debt sleeves contributed to returns, with the exception of renewable equities and commodities, which detracted from returns in the 12 months period ended 31 December 2023. Relative to the benchmark, overall negative allocation effect and security selection detracted from relative performance.

Relative Detractors

- Real estate equities due to negative security selection, as well as underweight allocation to the outperforming real estate sector.
- Utilities equities due to an overweight allocation to the underperforming sector
- REIT preferreds due to both negative security selection and underweight allocation to the outperforming sector.
- Commodities due to an opportunistic allocation to the unperforming commodities sector during the fourth quarter.
- Renewables equities due to an overweight allocation to the underperforming sector.
- Real asset debt driven by negative security selection and an overweight allocation to underperforming fixed income.

Relative Contributors:

- Infrastructure equities driven by an underweight allocation to the underperforming sector as well as positive security selection.
- Energy midstream equities due to positive security selection and an overweight allocation to the outperforming sector.

In the next section, we provide further detail on the performance of each asset class, along with our outlook for investing in real asset-related securities.

INFRASTRUCTURE EQUITIES

Listed infrastructure equities underperformed for much of 2023, before staging a significant rally in the fourth quarter. The FTSE Global Core Infrastructure 50/50 Index gained 11.11% in the fourth quarter, bringing the year-to-date return to the index positive at 3.10%. Weakness for much of the year can largely be attributed to sectors that are more interest rate sensitive, notably communications, utilities and renewables/electric generation companies. Persistently elevated rates, higher costs of capital and supply chain issues hindered sentiment among these stocks for much of 2023. However, these sectors staged a meaningful recovery in the fourth quarter as the rate environment appeared to have peaked, and input costs began to roll over. Some of the more economically sensitive sectors within infrastructure posted the strongest gains in 2023. U.S. midstream energy (as measured by the Alerian Midstream Energy Index) and global airport stocks posted double digit gains for the year.

Recent data suggest that inflation is beginning to moderate, which should translate to interest rates returning to a normalized, long-term range. We think this bodes well for infrastructure stocks, which historically tend to perform quite strongly relative to global equities following rate peaks.

- Utilities: While rates seem a negative catalyst that drove underperformance in 2023, there are additional factors to consider. We are focused on the best security-specific opportunities, with a focus on dynamics around customer bill affordability, cadence of spending on decarbonization initiatives, and companies' balance sheet management. Within the renewables sector, we think positive sentiment is beginning to permeate back into stock prices amidst an improving fundamental backdrop. Economics for new projects have improved as input costs have come down and supply chain headwinds are starting to subside.
- Transports: Passenger traffic continues to rebound; some of the world's largest airports continue to increase forecasts as travel demand remains strong. Key toll road traffic shows strong recovery as well. Rail volumes remain somewhat flat; and margins have eroded due to rising costs, so we remain somewhat cautious given the economic backdrop.
- Communications: We believe asset values should benefit from a moderate interest rate environment. While capital spending among carriers has slowed, U.S. mobile data demand remains quite strong. Coupled with limited new supply of towers, net operating income growth should remain steady in 2024. The valuation reset in tower stocks in 2023 created what we believe are compelling entry points for select companies.
- Energy Infrastructure: We remainfocused on natural gas, given the structural need for North American supply to counteract lack of supply from Russia to key developed markets. We think this presents a compelling opportunity, particularly with the European dual mandate of security of supply and decarbonization.

REAL ESTATE EQUITIES

After facing headwinds for much of 2023, global real estate securities posted meaningful gains in the fourth quarter of 2023. On the heels of central bank messaging that monetary policy tightening may have peaked, the entire sector staged a meaningful rally in November and December. The FTSE EPRA Nareit Developed Index returned 15.59% during the three-month period, bringing the index positive for the year at 10.85%. For the year, data centers and hotels were standout performers, each gaining more than 25%. Conversely, office landlords and diversified companies with office portfolios continued to struggle amid fundamental headwinds.

Recent data suggests that inflation is beginning to moderate, which should translate to interest rates returning to a normalized, long-term range. We think real estate is well positioned in a moderating or falling-rate environment. However, as monetary policy normalizes, we believe fundamentals—namely earnings growth and valuations—will return to center stage as market drivers. Despite the recent rally, we think global real estate remains well positioned to produce strong returns. Fundamentals across most property types remain strong. But given the slower macro growth outlook, we prefer a focus on needs based real estate over sectors that could be impacted more by a slowing economy.

If transaction activity picks up in 2024, REITs could be in a good position to take advantage of price dislocations. REIT balance sheets have low levels of leverage; and many locked in long-dated debt at low interest rates. As motivated sellers of high-quality assets emerge, well capitalized REITs can take advantage of capital markets.

In Hong Kong, we have repositioned holdings for what we believe to be an improved beta-adjusted, risk/return profile. We are starting to see more opportunities across Europe broadly, particularly among residential, retail and industrial landlords, as well as select non-index exposure to communications infrastructure companies.

REAL ASSET DEBT

Fixed-income performance was strong in 2023. Broad investment grade gained 8.4%, as measured by the ICE BofA U.S. Corporate Index, with real asset investment grade broadly in line with its broad-market counterpart. Meawhile, broad high yield returned 13.46%, as measured by the ICE BofA U.S. High Yield Index, with real asset high yield underperforming modestly compared to its broad-market counterpart. The 10-year U.S. Treasury rose to 5.0% in mid-October before declining to end 2023 at 3.9%, unchanged relative to the prior year-end.

Default activity remained elevated, bringing the 2023 total to $83.7 billion¹. Our analysis indicates just 19.4% of this default activity was within real asset sectors, despite those sectors accounting for approximately 47% of the ICE BofA U.S. High Yield Index debt outstanding. Additionally, while many headlines have highlighted defaults within real estate debt markets, issuers of corporate bonds within the real estate sector overall have demonstrated resiliency in their ability to access capital markets to manage their balance sheets, with investment grade REITs issuing approximately $20 billion of unsecured bonds in 2023².

We believe issuers within real asset sectors may be better positioned than their non-real asset counterparts for a longer period of high interest rates. This is because of their large amount of fixed rate debt and relatively lower maturities over the next five years. We expect a moderate slowdown in the economy in the coming quarters and believe that now could be a favorable time to utilize real asset high yield as a way to de-risk fixed-income portfolios.

Spreads within high yield remain near their long-term averages. However, we believe real asset high yield, particularly within the BB-rated segment, is relatively attractive after adjusting for projected credit losses during a potential period of elevated default rates. Within our portfolio, we continue to favor infrastructure debt as well as higher-quality debt.

OUTLOOK

We expect growth to slow in 2024. While inflation has trended lower, we believe central banks will hold rates at restrictive levels to ensure that inflation doesn't reaccelerate. Overall, our positioning remains defensive within our portfolio, with an underweight to real asset equities and an overweight to real asset debt. We also hold a modest allocation to commodities to enhance diversification amid escalating geopolitical risks and macro uncertainty.

Within equities, we continue to favor infrastructure over real estate due to infrastructure's potential outperformance in down markets and tighter inflation linkage. Within infrastructure, we are most constructive on utilities for their defensive characteristics and current attractive valuations. We also see tailwinds for energy midstream equities, which we believe should benefit from the global push for energy security. Within real estate, lingering concems around financing and broad negative sentiment around commercial real estate remain. However, if interest rates stabilize over the course of 2024, it may be a year of price discovery for real estate, and we expect investment opportunities to emerge in some subsectors that serve essential needs. Finally, elevated Treasury yields continue to make real asset debt attractive on a risk-adjusted basis, particularly the higher-quality part of the market where we believe default risks remain low.

BROOKFIELD GLOBAL RENEWABLES AND SUSTAINABLE INFRASTRUCTURE UCITS FUND

MANAGEMENT DISCUSSION OF FUND PERFORMANCE

For the year ended 31 December 2023, the Brookfield Global Renewables and Sustainable Infrastructure UCITS Fund Class E had a total return of -2.88%, which assumes the reinvestment of dividends, underperforming the MSCI World Net Index (USD) ("the Benchmark"), which returned 23.79%.

Top contributors to performance during the period included:

Water & Waste Infrastructure – infrastructure-like. Overweight exposure to companies tied to the concept of a circular economy performed well throughout the year. Despite acting more defensively relative to the broader renewables universe through much of 2023, stocks in this sector also rallied alongside pure-play renewables in the fourth quarter.

Water & Waste Infrastructure – non-infrastructure. A position in a global water technology provider contributed to returns as well.

Top detractors from performance during the period included:

Renewable Power & Infrastructure – infrastructure-like. Primary detractors included U.S. and European renewable power developers and producers, which underperformed as a result of persistent regulatory and political uncertainty.

Renewable Power & Infrastructure – broader value chain. The primary detractor within this group was an underperforming company focused on residential and commercial solar power generation and storage. Additional detractors included manufacturers of solar panels. A position in an outperforming wind turbine manufacturer marginally offset underperformance within this group.

MARKET OVERVIEW

Global renewables and sustainable infrastructure companies faced a variety of macroeconomic challenges in 2023. Tighter monetary policy, elevated input costs and supply chain constraints continued to take a toll on renewable power and infrastructure companies that stand to benefit from the energy transition. Conversely, water and waste infrastructure companies—those which we consider to be tied more closely to the concept of the circular economy, performed well during the period and provided a source of diversification to the universe.

OUTLOOK

Within the renewables sector, we think positive sentiment is beginning to permeate back into stock prices amidst an improving fundamental backdrop. Economics for new projects have improved as input costs have come down and supply chain headwinds are starting to subside.

Despite the near-term headwinds, we maintain our view the renewables build-out will take decades and near-term interest rates are unlikely to derail this trend.

We also think it is important to highlight the renewables and sustainable infrastructure universe is not homogeneous. Beyond "pure-play" renewables companies like power generators, wind turbines and solar panels, the universe includes waste management companies tied to the concept of a circular economy. We believe these companies can offer diversification to a renewables portfolio.

As we look ahead, we would stress that underlying fundamentals across the universe remain robust, and we believe the current environment presents a buying opportunity. Many of our companies' growth prospects we believe are not adequately reflected at current stock prices.

BROOKFIELD GLOBAL LISTED CORE INFRASTRUCTURE UCITS FUND

MANAGEMENT DISCUSSION OF FUND PERFORMANCE

For the year ended 31 December 2023, the Brookfield Global Listed Core Infrastructure UCITS Fund Class E had a total return of 2.46%, which assumes the reinvestment of dividends, outperforming the FTSE Global Core Infrastructure 50/50 Net Index (USD) ("the Benchmark"), which returned 2.21%.

During the period, airports were the leading contributor to relative returns. Positive security selection was primarily driven by overweight exposure to a Mexican airport operator focused on the country's western markets, which outperformed during the period. Positive selection among Asian and European airports contributed as well. Midstream energy also contributed positively, where stock selection was primarily driven by non-index allocations to natural gas energy infrastructure companies. Lastly, non-index and overweight exposure to outperforming European and Australian companies in the toll roads sector contributed as well.

Conversely, the renewables/electric generation sector was the leading detractor from returns. Overweight exposure to select U.K. and U.S. companies underperformed, driven by adverse regulatory outcomes. Overweight exposure to select gas utilities in the Asia Pacific region detracted as well. The stocks underperformed, as volume growth has not recovered as expected. Zero exposure to the ports sector detracted from relative returns, given the sector's outperformance during the period.

INFRASTRUCTURE MARKET OVERVIEW

Listed infrastructure equities underperformed for much of 2023, before staging a significant rally in the fourth quarter. The FTSE Global Core Infrastructure 50/50 Index gained 3.10% for the full year, driven by an 11.11% return in the fourth quarter.

Weakness for much of the year can largely be attributed to sectors that are more interest rate sensitive, not ably communications, utilities and renewables/electric generation companies. Persistently elevated rates, higher costs of capital and supply chain issues hindered sentiment among these stocks for much of 2023. However, these sectors staged a meaningful recovery in the fourth quarter on optimism the interest rate environment peaked, and input costs began to roll over. Some of the more economically sensitive sectors within infrastructure posted the strongest gains in 2023. U.S. midstream energy (as measured by the Alerian Midstream Energy Index) and global airport stocks posted double digit gains for the year.

OUTLOOK

Recent data suggest that inflation is beginning to moderate, which should translate to interest rates returning to a normalized, long-term range. We think this bodes well for infrastructure stocks, which historically tend to perform quite strongly relative to global equities following rate peaks. Below are our sector-specific outlooks across our investment universe.

Utilities

While rates seem a negative catalyst that drove underperformance in 2023, there are additional factors to consider. We are focused on the best security-specific opportunities, with a focus on dynamics around customer bill affordability, cadence of spending on decarbonization initiatives, and companies' balance sheet management. Within the renewables sector, we think positive sentiment is beginning to permeate back into stock prices amidst an improving fundamental backdrop. Economics for new projects have improved as input costs have come down and supply chain headwinds are starting to subside.

MANAGEMENT DISCUSSION OF FUND PERFORMANCE (continued)

Transports

Passenger traffic continues to rebound; some of the world's largest airports continue to increase forecasts as travel demand remains strong. Key toll road traffic shows strong recovery as well. Rail volumes remain somewhat flat; and margins have eroded due to rising costs, so we remain somewhat cautious given the economic backdrop.

Communications

We believe asset values should benefit from a moderate interest rate environment. While capital spending among carriers has slowed, U.S. mobile data demand remains quite strong. Coupled with limited new supply of towers, net operating income growth should remain steady in 2024. The valuation reset in tower stocks in 2023 created what we believe are compelling entry points for select companies.

Energy Infrastructure

We remain focused on natural gas, given the structural need for North American supply to counteract lack of supply from Russia to key developed markets. We think this presents a compelling opportunity, particularly with the European dual mandate of security of supply and decarbonization.

In preparing the financial statements, the directors are responsible for assessing the company's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless the directors either intend to liquidate the company or to cease operations, or have no realistic alternative but to do so.

Auditor's responsibilities for the audit of the financial statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with ISAs (Ireland) will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements.

2. Significant Accounting Policies

Basis of Preparation

The financial statements are prepared in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS) as adopted by the European Union, the requirements of the Companies Act 2014, as amended, the European Communities (Undertakings for Collective Investment in Transferable Securities) Regulations, 2011 (as amended) and Central Bank (Supervision and Enforcement) Act 2013 (Section 48(1)) (Undertakings for Collective Investment in Transferable Securities) Regulations, 2019 (the "UCITS Regulations"). The financial statements are prepared on the going concern basis.

Financial instruments

Classification of financial instruments

Under IFRS 9, a financial asset is classified as measured at: amortised cost; Fair value through other comprehensive income ("FVOCI") or fair value through profit or loss ("FVTPL"). The classification of financial assets under IFRS 9 is based on the business model in which a financial asset is managed and on its contractual cash flow characteristics.

In evaluating the classification of financial assets the Company has determined the following:

• Based on how performance is evaluated, how risks are managed and how compensation is paid, the business model for financial assets is to manage on a fair value basis.

The contractual cash flows of the financial assets are not solely payments of principal and interest.

Based on the above evaluation, the Company's financial assets are classified at FVTPL.

The Company's financial liabilities are classified at FVTPL in line with the principles of IFRS 9.

Recognition/derecognition of financial instruments

Purchases and sales of investments are accounted for on the day the trade transaction takes place. Investments are derecognised when the rights to receive cash flows from the investments have expired or the risks and rewards of ownership have all been substantially transferred. Realised gains and losses on disposals are calculated using the weighted average basis and are reflected as net realised gain/(loss) on financial assets at fair value through profit or loss in the Statement of Comprehensive Income.

Initial measurement of financial instruments

Financial assets and financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss are initially recognised at fair value. Gains and losses arising from changes in the fair value of the financial assets and liabilities are presented in the Statement of Comprehensive Income, in the year in which they arise.

Financial assets and liabilities at fair value through profit or loss

Valuation Principles

The value of any investment which is quoted, listed or normally dealt in on a regulated market shall be calculated at the last trade price. Investments quoted, listed or normally dealt in on more than one market shall be calculated at the last traded price on the market, that in the opinion of the Directors provides the principal market for such investment. When prices are not available for any reason, or such prices are deemed to not represent fair value, the value thereof shall be the probable realisation value which must be estimated in good faith by such competent person as may be appointed by the Directors and approved for the purpose by the Depositary.

The fair value of financial instruments traded in active markets (for example bonds, debt securities, equities and similar assets) were recorded based on quoted market prices as at 31 December 2023.

For all other financial instruments not traded in an active market, the fair value is determined by using appropriate valuation techniques. Valuation techniques include: using recent arm's length market transactions; reference to the current market value of another instrument that is substantially the same; discounted cash flow analysis and option pricing models making as much use of available and supportable market data as possible.

Forward Currency Contracts

The fair value of open foreign currency contracts is calculated as the difference between the contracted rate and the current forward rate that would close out the contract on the valuation date. For each relevant sub-fund, gains or losses on open forward currency contracts are included in investments in financial derivative instruments in the Statement of Financial Position.

Income

Dividends are recognised as income on the dates that the related investment is first quoted 'ex-dividend' to the extent information thereon is reasonably available. Interest income and interest expense are recognised on an accruals basis in line with the contractual terms. Interest is accrued on a daily basis.

Realised and Unrealised Gains/(Losses) on Investments

Realised gains and losses and unrealised gains and losses arising on the valuation of investments are recognised in the Statement of Comprehensive Income, where relevant. The cost of investments sold is recognised on a weighted average basis.

Fees and Charges

All expenses are recognised in the Statements of Comprehensive Income on an accruals basis.

Foreign Currency

Items included in the Company's financial statements are measured using the currency of the primary economic environment in which it operates (the functional currency). As at 31 December 2023 this was the United States Dollar ("USD").

Transactions in foreign currencies were translated at the foreign currency exchange rate at the date of the transaction. Monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies were translated to USD at the foreign currency closing exchange rate at the dates that the values were determined. Income and expenses were translated at the daily average exchange rates. Foreign currency exchange differences relating to investments at fair value through profit or loss were included in the net realised and unrealised gain on financial assets and liabilities at fair value through profit or loss in the Statement of Comprehensive Income. All other foreign currency exchange differences relating to monetary items, including cash, are presented in the Statement of Comprehensive Income.

Taxation

Under current law and practice, the Company qualifies as an investment undertaking as defined in Section 739B of the Taxes Consolidation Act of 1997, as amended. On that basis, it is not chargeable to Irish tax on its income or gains.

However, Irish tax may arise on the happening of a 'chargeable event'. Generally a chargeable event arises on any distribution, redemption, repurchase, cancellation, transfer of shares or on the ending of a "Relevant Period". A "Relevant Period" being an eight year period beginning with the acquisition of the shares by the Shareholder and each subsequent period of eight years beginning immediately after the preceding Relevant Period.

No Irish tax will arise on the Company in respect of chargeable events in respect of:

- (a) a shareholder who is neither an Irish resident nor ordinarily resident in Ireland for tax purposes, at the time of the chargeable event, provided appropriate valid declarations in accordance with the provisions of the Taxes Consolidation Act of 1997, as amended, are held by the Company; and
- (b) certain exempted Irish tax resident shareholders who have provided the Company with the necessary signed statutory declarations.

Dividends, interest and capital gains (if any) received on investments made by the Company may be subject to withholding taxes imposed by the country from which the investment income/gains are received and such taxes may not be recoverable by the Company or its shareholders.

Redeemable participating shares

Redeemable participating shares are redeemable at the shareholder's option and are classified as financial liabilities.

The redeemable participating shares can be put back to the Company on any dealing day for cash equal to a proportionate share of the Company's Net Asset Value.

Transaction costs

Transaction costs include fees and commissions paid to agents, advisers, brokers and dealers, levies by regulatory agencies and security exchanges, and transfer taxes and duties. Transaction costs do not include debt premiums or discounts, financing costs or internal administrative or holding costs. These are expensed through the Statement of Comprehensive Income as incurred.

Receivables and payables

Receivables and payables represent amounts receivable and payable for transactions contracted but not yet delivered.

Receivables are non-derivative financial assets with fixed or determinable payments that are not quoted in an active market. Receivables are recognised initially at fair value plus transaction costs that are directly attributable to their acquisition/origination. They are subsequently measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method, less provision for impairment.

Payables are recognised initially at fair value and subsequently stated at amortised cost using the effective interest method. The difference between the proceeds and the amounts payable are recognised over the period of the payable using the effective interest method.

Dividends

Dividends may be paid at the Directors' discretion. Shareholders will be notified in advance of any dividend being declared and details of any change in dividend policy will be provided by amending the Prospectus or the applicable Supplement. For further details of dividends paid during the financial year please refer to note 4.

8. Risk Associated with Financial Instruments

The sub-funds utilise various methods to value investments measured at fair value on a recurring and non-recurring basis. The fair value hierarchy is categorised into three levels based on the inputs as follows:

Level 1 – Valuations based on quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities;

Level 2 – Valuations based on quoted prices in markets that are not active or for which all significant inputs are observable, either directly (as prices) or indirectly (derived from prices); and

Level 3 – Valuations based on inputs that are unobservable and significant to the overall fair value measurement.

Inputs are used in applying the various valuation techniques and broadly refer to the assumptions that market participants use to make valuation decisions, including assumptions about risk. Inputs may include price information, volatility statistics, specific and broad credit data, liquidity statistics, and other factors.

A financial instrument's level within the fair value hierarchy is based on the lowest level of any input that is significant to the fair value measurement. However, the determination of what constitutes 'observable' requires significant judgment by Company management. Company management considers observable data to be that market data which is readily available, regularly distributed or updated, reliable and verifiable, not proprietary, and provided by independent sources that are actively involved in the relevant market.

The categorisation of a financial instrument within the hierarchy is based upon the pricing transparency of the instrument and does not necessarily correspond to Company management's perceived risk of that instrument.

Fair value is a market-based measure considered from the perspective of a market participant rather than an entity-specific measure. Therefore, even when market assumptions are not readily available, Company management's own assumptions are set to reflect those that market participants would use in pricing the asset or liability at the measurement date. Company management uses prices and inputs that are current as of the measurement date, including periods of market dislocation. In periods of market dislocation, the observability of prices and inputs may be reduced for many securities. This condition could cause a security to be reclassified to a lower level within the fair value hierarchy.

The following tables summarise the inputs used to value the sub-funds' financial instruments measured at fair value on a recurring and non-recurring basis as at 31 December 2023 and 31 December 2022:

Valuation Techniques

When fair values of listed equities and publicly traded derivatives at the reporting date are based on quoted market prices or binding dealer price quotations, without any deduction for transaction costs, the instruments are included within Level 1 of the hierarchy. Debt Securities valued at the bid price provided by recognized investment dealers are included in Level 2 of the hierarchy.

The Company uses widely recognised valuation models for determining fair values of over-the-counter derivatives. For these financial instruments, inputs into models are market observable and are therefore included within Level 2.

The fair values of currency exchange contracts (forward currency contracts) are calculated by reference to current exchange rates for contracts with similar maturity and risk profiles.

Market Price Risk

Set out below is a description of risks and an outline of the processes the Investment Manager has implemented to assess, monitor and control these specific risks:

Market price risk is the risk that the fair value of financial instruments (i.e., bonds, equities and other investments) or its future cash flows will fluctuate because of changes in market prices and includes currency risk and interest rate risk. The Company's market risk management strategy is driven by the investment objectives of each of the sub-funds. The sub-funds are actively managed.

The following specific processes are in place to control market risk:

- Market risk for all sub-funds is assessed by the Investment Manager in the context of the total portfolio being managed, where financial derivative instruments are included on a fully paid up exposure basis;
- Consideration is given to basis risk (the risk that the financial derivative instrument will not move in line with the physical position) where appropriate;
- Restrictions on gearing of portfolios are in place (as defined in the Company's Prospectus).
 Financial derivative instruments cannot be used to circumvent these restrictions;
- Net exposures of a sub-fund to an asset class, including the delta weighted exposure of derivative instruments are restricted by the Company's investment guidelines;
- In the case of use of financial derivative instrument positions to achieve exposure, the sub-funds hold sufficient cash or appropriate equivalent to meet potential obligations arising from the net derivative position. In the case of derivative positions to remove exposure, the sub-funds hold assets, which are considered a reasonable hedge.

The Company is exposed to market risk, (which includes the risk of market fluctuations, currency risk, interest rate risk and portfolio management risk), liquidity risk and credit risk arising from the financial instruments it holds. The Company may use derivatives and other instruments in connection with its risk management activities.

The Company has investment guidelines that set out its overall business strategies, its tolerance for risk and its general risk management philosophy and has established processes to monitor and control economic hedging transactions in a timely and accurate manner. The Company's accounting policies in relation to derivatives are set out in note 2 to the financial statements and the Company has a Risk Management Process in place for the use of financial derivative investments which has been approved by the Board and the Central Bank of Ireland.

As at 31 December 2023, a 5% increase or decrease in the market prices of the underlying instruments would have increased or decreased the net assets attributable to holders of redeemable shares by the amounts shown below, on the basis that all other variables remained constant. The Investment Manager considers this movement to be a reasonable size of movement to use as an indicator of the size of market price move a sub-fund might experience.

Interest Rate Risk

Interest rate risk is the risk that the value of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in market interest rates.

The majority of the Company's financial assets and liabilities and financial derivatives are non-interest bearing and therefore are not exposed to interest rate risk. Brookfield Real Assets Securities UCITS Fund has investments in corporate bonds which are subject to interest rate risk.

The table below summarises the maturity periods for interest-bearing securities held by Brookfield Real Assets Securities UCITS Fund as at 31 December 2023.

As at 31 December 2023, a 100 basis points change in interest rates would have an impact on net assets attributable to holders of redeemable shares and cause an increase/decrease in net assets attributable to holders of redeemable shares of USD 44,399 (31 December 2022: USD 59,426) for Brookfield Real Assets Securities UCITS Fund.

The interest rate sensitivity provided above represents a hypothetical outcome and is not intended to be predictive. Market conditions, and therefore future interest rates, could vary significantly from that suggested.

In accordance with the Company's policy, the Investment Manager monitors the Company's overall interest rate sensitivity on a continuous basis, and the Board reviews it on a quarterly basis.

Foreign Currency Risk

Currency risk is the risk that the fair value or future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in foreign exchange rates. The income and capital value of the Company's investments can be significantly affected by currency translation movements as the majority of the Company's assets could be denominated in currencies other than base currency. The fluctuations in the rate of exchange between the currency in which the asset or liability is denominated and the functional currency could result in an appreciation or depreciation in the fair value of that asset.

The tables that follows analyse the net amount of monetary assets and liabilities held by each sub-fund at the balance sheet date denominated in currencies other than USD, the functional currency as at 31 December 2023 and 31 December 2022.

Liquidity Risk

Liquidity risk is the risk that an entity will encounter difficulty in realising assets or in meeting obligations associated with financial liabilities as they fall due, including meeting daily redemptions of participating shares. The Investment Manager seeks to mitigate this liquidity risk by ensuring that a reasonable portion of the sub-fund's investments trade in active markets and can be sold readily.

There can be no assurance that an adequate market for the investments will exist at all times, or that the prices at which the investments trade accurately reflect their fair value. Low trading volumes of the investments could also make it difficult to liquidate holdings quickly.

As required by IFRS 7, the sub-funds' financial liabilities should be categorised into relevant maturity groupings based on the remaining period as at 31 December 2023 and 31 December 2022 to the contractual maturity date. However, as all liabilities mature in less than one year from the balance sheet date for both 31 December 2023 and 31 December 2022, this analysis is not required in this instance. In accordance with the Company's policy, the Investment Manager monitors the Company's overall liquidity risk on a continuous basis.

Credit risk

Credit risk is the risk that one party to a financial instrument will cause financial loss to another party by failing to discharge an obligation. It is the Company's policy to enter into financial transactions with a range of reputable counterparties thus diversifying the credit risk. Therefore, the Company does not expect to incur material credit losses on its financial instruments.

With respect to Financial Derivative Instruments (FDIs), credit risk arises from the potential failure of counterparties to meet their obligations under the contract or arrangement.

The Company monitors its risk by monitoring the credit quality and financial position of CACEIS Investor Services Bank S.A., Dublin Branch.

As at 31 December 2023 CACEIS Investor Services Bank S.A. has a credit rating of A+ with Standard and Poor's ("S&P") (RBC Investor Services Bank S.A., Dublin Branch as at 31 December 2022: AA-). The Investment Manager regularly reviews concentrations of credit risk.

Financial Derivative Instruments

The Investment Manager has assessed the risk profile of the Company and the related sub-funds on the basis of the investment policy, strategy and the use of financial derivative instruments. Based on the risk profile, the Investment Manager has determined that the method for the calculation of the global exposure to financial derivative instruments for all sub-funds will be the commitment approach, where the sub-fund holds financial derivative instruments.

Efficient Portfolio Management

The Company may, within the conditions and limits laid down by the Central Bank of Ireland, for the purpose of efficient portfolio management specifically for currency hedging, enter into a variety of derivative instruments including, but not limited to, CFD - Equities, options, index futures and financial futures. The Company may also purchase or sell spot or forward currency contracts predominantly for the purpose of providing protection against exchange rate risk.

Furthermore, the Company may, for efficient portfolio management, enter into CFD - Equities with one or more counterparties subject to the conditions and limits set out in the Regulations.

Each sub-fund may also utilise derivative instruments for investment purposes and details of such instruments used and the specific strategies for which such instruments are employed in this context will be set out in the applicable Supplement 'Efficient Portfolio Management', for these purposes, means an investment decision involving transactions that are entered into for one or more of the following specific aims:

- a reduction of risk;
- a reduction of cost; and
- the generation of additional capital or income for the Fund with an appropriate level of risk, taking into account the risk profile of the Fund and the general provisions of the Regulations.

The Company will employ a risk management process which will enable it to accurately manage, monitor and measure the risks attached to derivative positions and details of this process have been provided to the Central Bank. The Company will not utilise derivative positions which have not been included in the risk management process until such time as a revised risk management process has been submitted and cleared by the Central Bank. The Company will provide on request to shareholders supplementary information relating to the risk management methods employed by the Company including the quantitative limits that are applied and any recent developments in the risk and yield characteristics of the main categories of investments of the relevant sub-fund.

The realised and unrealised gains/(losses) arising from the derivative transactions were presented in the Statements of Comprehensive Income under the position 'Net realised and unrealised gain/(loss) on financial assets and liabilities at fair value through profit or loss' and in the corresponding note 6.

As further detailed in note 9, in seeking to hedge part of the currency risk exposure in the core portfolio for Brookfield Global Listed Real Estate UCITS Fund forward currency contracts were utilised as at the financial year end. The realised and unrealised gains/(losses) arising from the derivative transactions were presented in the Statements of Comprehensive Income under the position 'Net realised and unrealised gain/(loss) on financial assets and liabilities at fair value through profit or loss' and in the corresponding note 6.

The exposure obtained through efficient portfolio management is equivalent to the value of the forward currency contracts held as at the financial year end. The counterparty in relation to the forward currency contracts as at 31 December 2023 is CACEIS IS Bank Luxembourg (31 December 2022: RBC IS Bank Luxembourg).

There were no netting agreements in place for financial year ended 31 December 2023 (none for 31 December 2022). As result revised requirements of IFRS 7 to disclose offsetting requirements for financial assets and liabilities have no impact on current disclosures in the Company's financials.

The authorised share capital of the Company is 100,000,000,000 Shares of no par value and 500,000 Subscriber Shares of USD 1 each. The Subscriber Shares do not entitle the holders to any dividend and on a winding up entitle the holder to receive the amount paid up thereon but not otherwise to participate in the assets of the Company.

The Company may by ordinary resolution of all shareholders increase its authorised share capital, consolidate and divide all or any of its share capital into shares of larger amount or sub-divide its shares or any of them into shares of smaller amount. Operational Risk

Operational risk comprises the risk that deficiencies in the effectiveness and accuracy of information systems or internal controls will result in a material loss. The risk arises from human error, systems failures, inadequate procedures or internal management controls and these are mitigated by the following controls:

- The valuation standards and systems utilised by the Administrator are consistent with current industry standards, with derivatives valued at market value and exposures stated on a delta-adjusted basis.
- Valuation/pricing of all financial derivative instruments are sourced and reported independently, using appropriate methodologies as appropriate for the instrument.
- There is segregation of duties between the Manager and the Administrator;
- Operational control procedures are in place to enable prompt and accurate recording of physical and derivative transactions and protect the integrity of systems and portfolio information. All trades are booked on trade date and the transaction history cannot be deleted from the system;
- Independent reconciliations of portfolio holdings and frequent broker confirmations are carried out by both the Manager and the Administrator on a monthly basis and signed off by senior personnel;
- New types of derivative instruments must be approved for use by the Board after consideration of the investment and operational risks and requirements and documented business continuity/disaster recovery plans are in place for both the Manager and the Administrator.

The Manager analyses and monitors the portfolios of the sub-funds on a daily basis. Exposures are measured by market, asset class, sector and market capitalisation. Pre and post trade compliance monitoring is carried out to ensure that there are no breaches of the sub-funds' investment guidelines.

Remuneration Disclosure

The Manager has designed and implemented a remuneration policy (the "Policy") in line with the provisions of S.I. 257 of 2013 European Union (Alternative Investment Fund Managers) Regulations 2013 (the "AIFM Regulations"), S.I. 352 of 2011 European Communities (Undertakings for Collective Investment in Transferable Securities) Regulations 2011 (as amended) (the "UCITS Regulations") and of the ESMA Guidelines on sound remuneration policies under the UCITS Directive and AIFMD (the "ESMA Guidelines"). The Manager's remuneration policy applies to its identified staff whose professional activities might have a material impact on the Company's risk profile and so covers senior management, risk takers, control functions and any employees receiving total remuneration that takes them into the same remuneration bracket as senior management and risk takers and whose professional activities have a material impact on the risk profile of the Company. The Manager's policy is to pay identified staff a fixed component with the potential for identified staff to receive a variable component. It is intended that the fixed component will represent a sufficiently high proportion of the total remuneration of the individual to allow the Manager to operate a fully flexible policy, with the possibility of not paying any variable component. When the Manager pays a variable component as performance related pay certain criteria, as set out in the Manager's remuneration policy, must be adhered to. The various remuneration components are combined to ensure an appropriate and balanced remuneration package that reflects the relevant staff rank and professional activity as well as best market practice. The Manager's remuneration policy is consistent with, and promotes, sound and effective risk management and does not encourage risk-taking which is inconsistent with the risk profile of the funds it manages.
